KENT CLARK IS MADE LIBRARY BOARD MEMBER

ROUTINE business passed through the hands of the village council at its meeting Wednesday evening. The ordinance calling for election to determine the fate of the proposed $31,000 city hall passed its second reading, with the usual four-to-one difference of opinion. Mayor Thoburn, Councilmen Catlin, Burge and Norton voted yes, with Councilman Rowntree representing the opposition. Just to be consistent, Councilman Rowntree also voted no on a resolution asking that the date on the PWA loan and grant bonds be changed from December 1, 1934 to some date not later than July 1, 1934.

The council accepted with regret the resignation of John B. Adams from the chairmanship of the library board, and appointed Kent Clark to fill out the unexpired term. Mr. Adams is a veteran in library matters, having been on the board of the Ralph Chandler Harrison Memorial library since its inception, and being closely associated with the old library in the present Girl Scout house. Ill health was the reason given by Mr. Adams for his request to be released from his duties. Mr. John Dennis and Mrs. Hurd Comstock were appointed to succeed themselves on the board.

To Sell Equipment

Offer of the Carmel Sanitary District to buy from the city some $334 worth of equipment at a 30 per cent discount was accepted.

The council voted to extend to Chief of Police Englund a month's vacation on pay. The chief is confined to Peninsula Community Hospital with an infected foot as result of an injury received in searching rocky portions of the beach after the disappearance of Eliot Boke Schaffner. Charles Guth is acting chief of police in Englund's absence, and Earl Warmuth was appointed to regular duty.

Army Is Thanked

A resolution of thanks was passed for services of the United States Army, with special mention of Col. Ralph M. Parker, who was in charge of the detail of 300 soldiers from Monterey Presidio, who stayed a half-day to intensive search for Mrs. Schaffner.

Services of a caretaker for the beach were dispensed with for the present, and care of the beach was placed in the hands of the police department.

Municipalities of California will hold a meeting at Salinas next Wednesday and Carmel will be represented by Mayor Thoburn, Councilmen Burge and Rowntree.

Next meeting will be held Jan. 16.

NEW CITY HALL SUBJECT OF JANUARY 15 MEETING

The city council has arranged for a public meeting to be held on the evening of Jan. 15, in the Sunset school auditorium for the discussion of the new city hall project.

This is a matter of importance to every voter and taxpayer in the city and the council has arranged to have the matter fully explained and to answer any questions that may be asked. The council hopes that as many as possible will be present.

Grim Reaper Nosed Out By Stork In Records for County

The grim reaper was nosed out by the stork in Monterey county last year. The noble bird delivered 834 infants to homes during 1934, while the old boy with the scythe marked up a score of 544. The birth rate was increased last year from a total of 746 in 1933, while the death total dropped from 603. In the list of births there were 426 boy babies and 408 girls.

Scott Nearing To Lecture Here

First of what is expected to develop into a series of lectures by eminent speakers has been announced for Saturday evening, January 19, when Scott Nearing will be presented at the Community Playhouse by a new organization, Carmel Film and Forum. If the idea proves popular, speakers will alternate at the Playhouse fortnightly with motion pictures of a type not generally shown by the commercial theaters.

Nearing is one of the outstanding sociologists of the day, author of many books and pamphlets dealing with economic and social questions. He has made extended studies of economic and social conditions in all parts of the United States, Canada and Europe. He spent 1931 in Germany, Russia and Central Europe studying conditions and compiling material for his new volume on world economy.

In the belief that people are particularly interested in economics and sociology as they affect and are affected by current world affairs, Film and Forum's proposed lecture series will emphasize these subjects. The "forum" idea is widespread at present, and is proving particularly popular in smaller places. Palm Springs is having a stimulating series of speakers, many of whom will also be available for Carmel. The Library Forum in San Francisco and a similar organization in the south, the Hollywood Symposium, are responsible for bringing many outstanding personalities to the coast.

SAMUEL G. BLYTHE ON WAY HOME FROM CAPITAL

Samuel G. Blythe, international writer, and resident of the peninsula, is on his way home after garnering editorial material at Washington, D. C. He has been stopping over for several days at Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas, in an effort to get rid of an incident attack of arthritis. The springs were recommended to Mr. Blythe by Dr. Grayson, president in Washington. It is expected Mr. Blythe will arrive at his Pebble Beach home within the next week or ten days.

RED CROSS MEETING IS SET FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

In order to give seating capacity for a larger crowd the annual meeting of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at All Saints' Episcopal church instead of at guild hall as was originally announced. The meeting will be called to order at 3:30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon.

—New Set-Up—

CHANGES MADE IN SERA STAFF FOR MONTEREY

BEGINNING of the new year has been accompanied by numerous changes in personnel of executives and administrative workers of SERA according to Director Fred G. Bechdolt. Most important of these is the transfer of Miss Marian Plimpton, case supervisor, to San Mateo county, and arrival of Miss Eva Bagley from Santa Barbara to take over this position. Miss Plimpton has been making her home in Carmel while a member of Mr. Bechdolt's staff, and has taken part in numerous community activities. Miss Bagley has been case supervisor in Santa Barbara, and has made an excellent record there.

Another Carmelite of the SERA office, Mrs. Nancy Van de Griendt, has been transferred to San Francisco, where she will continue to do case work.

Still Growing Load

With a case load now about 1400 and still growing, number of visitors has been increased to 11. Among recruits to the department are Mrs. Marion Todd, who recently completed a secretarial course in San Francisco and followed it with social service work in one of the large hospitals there, and Mrs. Myrtle Stoddard, who has been living in Carmel for the past year, formerly of Los Angeles, where she had some experience in social service as a kindergarten teacher in one of the poorer districts. Mrs. Madeline Ullman, formerly of Carmel, who has been living in San Francisco, has returned here to join the SERA staff.

Work of the executive force has been greatly facilitated by removal to the new quarters in the old Elks building in Salinas, at 234 Monterey street. Mr. Bechdolt says. The former SERA office in the court house annex was so congested and inconveniently arranged that it impaired efficiency. The new floor space of 60 by 65 feet is already filled comfortably, but the office workers are not sitting three deep in each other's laps, as was figuratively the case in the old quarters. Remodeling was effected by SERA workmen.

Open Branch Office

The fact that an average of 60 per cent of the SERA case load are residents of Monterey peninsula has necessitated the opening of a branch office in Monterey, in the Brown adobe. Mrs. Bessie Haas of Carmel is for the present in charge of this office, which opened Wednesday. A staff of four will probably be required.

Monterey also has one of the county's two depositories for the distribution of commodities from the federal government. The other is in Salinas. This is in the YMCA building at Pacific and Alvarado. Here regularly certificated SERA clients call once a month for foodstuffs which supplement the slim budgets which they are allowed to earn on the various projects. At present rice, canned peaches, canned beef, sugar and cheese are being distributed. For a family of four, two pounds of rice, four cans of peaches, two cans of beef, two pounds of cheese and ten pounds of sugar are allowed per month, and for larger or smaller families the amounts are proportionate.

Water Works to Question Right of City to Construct Hall at Devendorf Plaza

By PERRY NEWBERRY

THE city's right to use Devendorf Plaza—block 69—as a site for a city hall, as proposed in the bond election of January 24, and as planned by architects chosen by the council, will be questioned by the Monterey County Water Works, probably in the courts. The utility company's claim is based upon a right-of-way granted it by the Carmel Development Company when that corporation owned the square, and gives them perpetual access to their mains which cross the park diagonally.

Interesting Discoveries

Councilman Bernard Rowntree, who has been investigating this phase of the proposed city hall, has made some interesting discoveries. Crossing the square from near the corner of Ocean avenue and Junipero street to Mission and Sixth are the two main intake pipes of the water works, connecting the dam up the river with the Pebble Beach reservoir at the clay pit. One of these is a 22-inch main, the other a 12-inch main, and the deed by which the city holds ownership, is subject to a right-of-way to the water company. Nothing may be constructed on the square that will interfere with the water company's free access to these pipes. And, as planned, the fire engine house would cover a section of these mains.

Would Cost $3000

Councilman Rowntree made inquiries into the cost of removing the mains, and detouring the square on Junipero and Sixth streets. If the water company would agree to this, it would cost in the neighborhood of $3000. Whether or not the water company would consent to such an arrangement, or the city could insist upon the removal of the pipes, is not known as yet. Officials of the water company have stated that they will protest the erection of any building on their right-of-way, but are not ready to say what action will be taken in the event of the city's voting in favor of the bond issue and going forward with the plan.

Makes Statement

Councilman Rowntree's statement to the council in the matter is as follows:

"I am informed by the Monterey County Water Works that they have a perpetual right-of-way across Block 69 — Devendorf Plaza—for water pipes, with right of access to these pipes.

"There are two pipes, a 12-inch and a 22-inch, running from the southeast corner of the Plaza to the northwest corner.

"The Monterey County Water Works tell me that they will object to any building being erected over their pipes.

"If the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea asks the Monterey County Water Works to remove the pipes from under the Plaza, and run them under the streets, the approximate cost of this, estimated as of today, will be $2700.

"If the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea wishes the Monterey County Water Works to abandon the pipes under the Plaza, so as to save the expense of repairing the Plaza after the pipes are removed, the approximate additional cost will be from $350 to $400."

Search for Mrs. Schaffner's Body Facilitated by Minus Tides In Bay

UNUSUALLY good weather conditions and minus tides on Tuesday and Wednesday facilitated search of the waters of Carmel Bay, which have not yet returned the body of Eliot Boke Schaffner. If operations carried on under the direction of E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist, have not yet attained their object, a large amount of valuable information as to the structure and currents of the bay has been accumulated. Two vortices, one opposite the termination of Thirteenth street, about an acre in extent, and a smaller one at the foot of Ocean avenue, have been selected as focal points in the search, as they act as cumulative points for debris of the sea.

Captain Leonard Johnson, Stewart Packenthall and Joe Tryas are still making daily sallies by skiff, from which the ocean floor is examined by means of a water telescope, or "bottom peeper" of Capt. Johnson's own manufacture.

Diver Oscar Lager and his crew were able the middle of the week to examine more closely the two whirlpools which are dangerous to approach in bad weather or at high tide. Effect created along shore by these vortices is of a strong undertow. If the whirlpools fail to yield the body of Mrs. Schaffner it will be obvious, according to Dr. Heinrich, that the jutting underwater reefs, which form a series of caves toward the sea, conceal the body in such a way that it may never be recovered. However, efforts will not be relaxed at any time in the immediate future, and Dr. Heinrich will remain in

CARMEL WOMAN PASSES

AWAY ON LOS GATOS VISIT

Death claimed Mrs. Annie Elizabeth MacDonald of Carmel Sunday while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Maud Younger at Los Gatos. Mrs. MacDonald was 61 years of age. Her death was attributed to heart disease. She was born in San Francisco and was a member of a pioneer family. She was the mother of Baroness William Johnstone of London, and Lieutenant Burns MacDonald of the U. S. Navy, now stationed at Bremerton navy yard.

Heavy Showers Here Add To Rain Total

Heavy showers Saturday and Sunday nights added .36 inches to the season's rainfall, and sent the total over seven inches. At this time last year but 4.77 inches had fallen. Total for the season is now 7.30. Carmel and Pacific Grove are running slightly ahead of other peninsula points, being the only two places where records are kept to register over 7 inches. The figure for Pacific Grove is 7.89. Rainfall all over the state is running far ahead of last season, which was the driest in many years. The storms have been so spaced as to be particularly beneficial.

Walter Kelsey, Radio Broadcaster, Visits Old Carmel Stamping Ground

By WINSOR JOSSELYN

WALTER KELSEY got away from radio long enough to spend a few days with his folks in Carmel over Christmas, but boss Al Pearce cut short his stay with a wire to come back to the Los Angeles studios and arrange music for a new series of the gang broadcasts. San Francisco will probably be used as headquarters before long, and then a jump to New York is in prospect with Radio City the goal.

"The gang hour from two until three," said Walter, who has recently put on a little weight against a cold winter, "already is on national hookup twice a week and goes out over 75 stations at such times. Our programs are arranged largely through fan letter reaction, but there is also a city-canvass campaign carried on by big sponsors to get at the listening public that doesn't write in."

People Like Classics

Asked if he thought that radio was bringing a better class of music into homes, he replied that good music—classical music—had always been wanted by the public, but that sponsors were just finding it out. Persons with better intellect are now accepting the radio and writing in their requests, and the two results have given rise to a conclusion that people had veered to better music through influence of radio.

Kelsey has been working on a violin sonata for two years outside his radio connection, and is taking lessons from Julius Gold with the avowed ambition of creating something worth while in the growing world of modern music, with a purely artistic point of view in mind.

Based on Study

"Any creative musical work must be approached with respect and with a preparation based on study," he went on. "Background must exist before novelty can be achieved, to say nothing of true originality, and many a so-called modernist composer merely strings together a lot of unrelated sounds and says that his authority is his own expressiveness regardless of lack of structure or semblance of form. Frequently it falls apart for lack of connection. Some novices do succeed, it is true, in achieving a result that is acclaimed, but accident enters where actual preparation never comes in."

"I admit that people held their ears when Beethoven and Bach first played their work because it was so unusual, and that Debussy was disowned by his teachers for some of his compositions. But these composers knew what they were doing, and were not merely making sounds like contrary children might make on dishpans and call it music."

"Take for example a tableful of food. Pepper may be awakening, but it isn't a meal in itself, nor would just potatoes make a meal. Balance it up with portions of each to taste and you get something nourishing, and if you're an artist in combinations you will achieve something well worth while."

Comments on Others

He commented on the work of Meredith Wilson, who is also on radio, and his O. O. McIntyre suite representing modern life. Also on Ferde Grofe, who did Grand Canyon Suite and Tabloid, a man able to create American outlook and thought in modern music, a man who can bring visual effect into sound. In his Tabloid he even gets the effect of comic sections of the paper, of theater, of sports, of spot news.

"There is a lack of American directors," went on Kelsey, after adding that if he had his violin at the moment he could tell what he meant about Grofe's music. "With music of the American viewpoint it will demand directors raised with such viewpoint. There may be needed considerable revision of accepted forms of composition, of orchestration, even of instrument construction. The results will be purely musical, but besides being just musical the music will create pictures of modern life and feeling in sound."

Tide Aiding In Search for Body

charge of activities for an indefinite period.

Dr. Herman Adler, professor of psychiatry at University of California, formerly of Chicago, and a family friend of the Schaffners, is still in Carmel. Mr. Schaffner, who is residing in seclusion in the Schaffner home at Thirteenth and Casanova, voiced through Dr. Adler his heartfelt thanks at the efforts that have been made locally to facilitate the protracted search, and at the kindness and sympathy with which he has been surrounded. The strain of the last three weeks, since Mrs. Schaffner left her home and apparently walked into the surf at Cook's cove has been severe, but he has himself under admirable control.

Patrol of the beach after each high tide is conducted by local police officers, and the shore along the Highlands is examined daily by Clarence Wermuth and Ed S. Miller. Dr. Heinrich and Dr. Adler had highest words of praise for the manner in which all the crew of searchers have carried on.

Annual Reception Given by Women

Making the rounds on New Year's day from open house to open house, most of the village managed to drop in at the Girl Scout house where the Woman's club was holding its annual reception and tea. Some 200 persons enjoyed the hospitality of the club, and not all women, either, as there was a generous sprinkling of men throughout the afternoon. Again the club showed that it is filling an important community function in drawing together the loosely cohesive social elements of the village.

The clubroom looked particularly lovely, with evergreen branches and gaily-colored balloons festooned about the walls. For added comfort, small tables were set near the fire, each candle-centered. The whole room was softly lighted with tapers. Hostesses for the day, who were responsible for the charming decorations, included members of the hospitality committee: Mrs. F. W. Ten Winkel, chairman; Mrs. Kent Clark, Mrs. Pat Hudgins, Mrs. Morris K. Wilde and Mrs. James L. Cockburn. They were assisted by Mrs. E. R. Tutt and Mrs. John M. Dickinson of the house committee. Presiding at the tables where tea and coffee were poured were Mrs. James K. Lynch, Mrs. I. N. Ford, Mrs. J. G. Hooper and Mrs. W. S. Frolii.

On the receiving line were members of the board of directors, including Mrs. H. S. Nye, Mrs. J. B. McCarthy, Miss Agnes Ford, Mrs. J. K. Lynch, Miss Ruth Huntington, Mrs. W. S. Frolii, Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. E. R. Tutt, Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff, Mrs. Osborn Johnson and Mrs. Willis G. White.

Bank Of Carmel Pays Extra Yuletide Dividend

Prosperity is here. In fact it has never been away, according to officials of the Bank of Carmel, who report the paying of a special Christmas dividend to its stockholders of $5 a share.

This dividend is in addition to the regular dividend paid in January and in July of each year without interruption since July 1, 1924, the first year of operation. The bank opened in 1923 and its growth has been gradual ever since, showing that Carmel has weathered the depression period nobly.

JACK JORDAN HONEYMOONS WITH BRIDE IN SOUTHLAND

Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan returned to Carmel Tuesday after attending the wedding of their son, Jack L. Jordan, to Miss Anna Eagal, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Eagal of San Jose Monday morning. Joe Mora of Carmel was groomsmen, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jane Eagal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. C. Hawley of Stockton.

The bridal pair will return to Carmel in about a week after a trip to Southern California, and will make their home here. Young Mr. Jordan is associated with his father in management of Pine Inn.

PAUL BEYGRAU'S PAINTING TO BE SOLD TO PUBLIC

On display in the window at the Carmel Garage and at the Carmel Drug Store currently is the portrait of "Pal," the popular fat mongrel whom Paul Beygrau painted recently. The picture is being offered for sale as a sort of civic undertaking, and various young women of the village who are interesting themselves in the project will give information as to how the picture may be obtained. Miss Leslie King of the Red Cross is one of the sponsors of the project.

IMPROVEMENT PLANNED

ON CIRCLE M. RANCH

M. J. Murphy, Inc., pioneer Carmel building concern, will soon begin construction on a group of large buildings at Big Creek, some 50 miles down the coast for Edward S. Moore, an easterner who is planning to make extensive developments on his Circle M ranch.

The residence will cost $25,000, and bunk houses, dairy buildings and general farm buildings will be on a similar scale. They will be of English style with rustic exterior, using split shakes and hand-hewn timbers.

RETURNS TO GALLUP

He holds a responsible position in federal erosion survey work covering a large territory, and it is said that such conservation measures will retain millions of dollars worth of farm land now annually destroyed by the elements.

Miss Helen Eichaker was one of the New Year's eve hostesses, entertaining a group of friends at cards and serving midnight supper.

Notices were distributed by the police department this week requesting householders to remove rubbish piles from city property, in compliance with a city ordinance forbidding the traditional practice of cleaning up the garden and disposing of the results by piling them in the streets. While each year has seen a diminution of this nuisance, Acting Chief Guth wishes to call attention to the fact that heaps of refuse may no longer adorn paths and roadways.

Woman's Club Book Section Hears Dramatic Reading of Benet's Poem

RECONVENING after a brief holiday cessation of activities, the first of the Woman's Club section meetings for the new year was that of the book group Wednesday morning. The program was in the hands of Mrs. Rose De Yoe, who gave a beautiful reading of William Rose Benet's dramatically moving poem, "Rip Tide."

Mrs. De Yoe explained her choice of this particular work on the grounds that selection of a poem suitable for enjoyment by a large group is no easy task, but that the Benet poem has an almost universal appeal. The viewpoint and structure are modern, the theme, of tragic love and death, has a cosmic scope, and the majestic rhythm has a sweep and flow that clothes a strong story with mystic beauty. The speaker quoted the Irish critic AE as saying that epic poetry is second rate unless redeemed by great genius.

Moving Experience

It is not necessary to settle the point as to the quality of Benet's genius to declare that his poem as read by Mrs. De Yoe was an absorbing and deeply moving experience.

A story is told of three young people whose lives were entangled on the Main coast in years past. The girl, Sheila, loved the boy who came to visit from the city, but married the other man when a summer romance cooled. Subsequently the two met again, love was renewed, and fruit of the union was a son, brought up in the west by the husband who believed himself the boy's father. Sheila died, her lover married, and rose in the world. The daughter of this marriage grew up with the post-war generation. Inevitably, the two children met and loved. On the afternoon that the father disclosed to the boy the reason why they could never marry, the girl was caught in the riptide on the beach at their summer home. In saving her life the boy was killed, and the insoluble problem of these tangled lives was resolved.

Black Persian Cat Lost; Owner Asked to Take It Home

Someone is probably looking for a fine black Persian cat which has recently turned up in the neighborhood of Scenic and Eighth, where residents are feeding it, but would prefer that the owner claim it. Rumors to the effect that the cat had been the property of Mrs. Elliot Schaffner proved false when members of the Schaffner household declared that Mrs. Schaffner had owned neither dog nor cat. Owners of the cat may secure it by calling the Mason residence, 817.

for moments after its conclusion, before the women came to themselves with a startled burst of applause.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. I. N. Ford, section chairman, announced that several new volumes have been added to the section's excellent collection, as a result of the pre-Christmas review by Miss Sarah Redington. Among them are "Spider Woman," Buchan's "Oliver Cromwell," Nordhoff's "Pitcairn Island," "Kippy of the Cavendish" and "Dew on the Grass." Mrs. Ford will be the speaker at the next section meeting, Jan. 16.

TWO TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS DURING NEW YEAR HOLIDAY

Holiday traffic violations brought two offenders into the court of City Judge George L. Wood. Dale Leidig of Carmel was cited for driving without due caution and will appear today for court action. Thomas Patten Wilder of Santa Barbara, according to complaint, was doing 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone and is scheduled to make his appearance in court tomorrow.

Gundersen In Charge of Art Society Program

In charge of next Tuesday's meeting of the Musical Arts society is Arthur Gundersen of Carmel. Mrs. Ethel Irvine and Andrew Sessink will appear on the program, giving vocal numbers, and Mrs. Gundersen is negotiating other numbers which are not yet ready for announcement.

This will be the regular monthly meeting of the organization, held in the usual place, at the Van Ess-MacGowan home in the Country Club, at 8 o'clock. As one of the popular activities in which music-lovers of the peninsula, Salinas, and even further afield participate, a large attendance is anticipated.

Mrs. Guy Hamlin of New York, and Mrs. Gentry, both of Sundial court, drove to Pasadena to attend the Tournament of Roses and returned Wednesday evening.

Many Children In Nursery School

Thirty-four children enrolled in the SERA nursery school in Monterey returned from their Christmas holiday to find that Santa Claus had paid a generous visit in their absence. Not only games and toys, but hammers, saws, paint brushes, kalsomine, garden tools and other materials to be used in their work and play were part of the store of nice things left for them.

Santa Claus' helpers in this instance were the children enrolled in the primary department of Carmel Community church under Mrs. D. E. Nixon. For the past year the children had been accumulating a trove to be distributed at Christmas time, and it was decided that a good place to bestow them would be the nursery school, where children are cared for while their parents are at work.

When the Carmel children had their Christmas party at the church, the Saturday before Christmas, they spent several happy hours wrapping the gifts for their little neighbors. They had their own Christmas tree, on which was a chocolate Santa Claus for each child, but this Christmas, Mrs. Nixon said, the youngsters were more interested in giving than in receiving.

Mrs. Julia Breinig is in charge of the nursery school and was delighted to receive the gifts which will give pleasure and instruction to her little charges for many weeks to come.

Books, Old and New

By THELMA B. MILLER

OUR MASTER'S VOICE, an expose of the advertising business, was written by a very angry man. James Rorty, an alumnus of the trade, evidently believed that he had sold his soul to the devil, and is out to redeem it. Along with some excellent denunciatory writing he has included some very dull statistics and surveys, but they indicate that he has a scientifically sound basis for his conclusions.

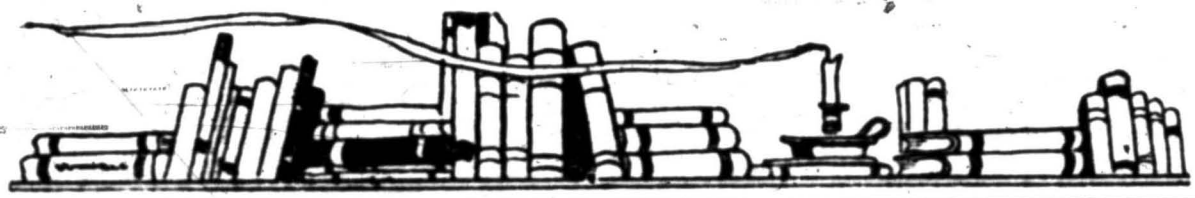

Now one of the 12 major industries of the United States, with infinite ramifications, expansion of the advertising business is comparable only to that of the motion picture, automobile and radio industries. The annual bill of two billion dollars is described by Rorty as the tax which business levies on the consumer to support the machinery of its super government, press, radio, and other agencies for dissemination of news, opinion and propaganda. He feels that it would still be expensive even if advertising were a reliable source of information. Its only legitimate function, he contends, is to give useful information for a product for which there is a spontaneous demand (for for instance, in the columns of a village weekly!) and not when resorting to the three major advertising appeals: fear, sex and emulation. Since this book was published another motive has appeared which students might classify as the "wishful thinking" motive on the part of the advertiser, as for instance the company which thinks that it would be a good idea to sentence to the ducking-stool people who fail to buy its product!

Anent the celebrated "free" press of America, Rorty concedes that the press is freer than that of most of the rest of the world, on the basis that it may criticize the government with impunity, but declares that it is in bondage to the advertisers.

We may as well be realistic and admit that there is not and probably never will be an absolutely "free" press. It is free only to voice the opinions of the man who pays the bills, whether it is an "angel" or a group of advertisers. The pen of the old "independent" journalist is now the pen of the most powerful element in the community.

Rorty is not far wrong in regarding instruments of social communication as instruments of rule, of government. Controllers of the advertising medium constitute an administrative bureaucracy acting in behalf of the vested interests of business.

Berthold Motor Co. Showing New Fords

Arrival of the new Ford V-8 for 1935 in Carmel has been the reason for the large crowds which have been congregating the past few days at headquarters of the Berthold Motor Company here and in Monterey.

Otis Berthold and his sales manager, Fred Goss, have just returned from San Francisco, where they attended a meeting of Ford dealers to plan sales activities for the new car. Ford for 1935 has developed a new type of body—the touring sedan with unusually sleek lines and embodying a fitted rear trunk compartment integral with the body.

Principal among the engineering advances is the new "ride" effected by the new spring suspension system. Passengers are closer to the center of the car, so that they ride between the wheels. The car is approximately eight inches longer from bumper to bumper.

The modern design note is carried without break through the new slanting vertical grill with horizontal beading, the sweeping line of the low hood and more sharply slanting windshield. Fenders are deeper and more highly crowned, with sweeping skirts.

"Pop" Ernest Leaves Estate of $100,000

"Pop" Ernest, nationally known restaurateur, who died last week in his Monterey home after a siege of illness, part of which he was cared for at the Community hospital in Carmel, left an estate valued at around $100,000, according to special letters of administration filed at Salinas. Known throughout the United States as "Pop" Ernest, the Monterey abalone king's real name was Ernest Doelter.

Surviving Doelter are his wife, Mrs. Vera Doelter, Monterey; two sons, Carl and Ernest, Jr., of Monterey; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Stokes of Monterey, and Mrs. C. M. Brown, of Nevada City, and a sister, Mrs. Elsie Kade of Buenos Aires.

A. Ray Burrell's Exhibit at Stanford

An exhibition of etchings and lithographs by A. Ray Burrell is being held at the Stanford University Art Gallery until Jan. 13, 1935.

There are 32 prints in all. The various methods represented are etchings, aquatints, dry-points, and lithographs.

Some of the subjects are: Cloud Shadows, Weeping Oaks, Sonoma Coast, Point Lobos and Carmel Pines.

Mr. Burrell has succeeded in producing subjects in delicate effects with the strength of line that is characteristic of the etchings and dry-point. There are also strongly massed subjects which are almost in silhouette, such as the "California Oaks" print, and soft, pencil-like effects with the lithographs as seen in the "La Honda Hills" print.

HELPS MUNICIPALITIES

The PWA has allotted $47,000,000 for municipal power plants and is apparently anxious to assist cities whose projects of this kind are challenged in the courts.

Nicol Smith To Talk On Dutch Guiana Here

The Denny-Watrous Gallery announces the first of a series of talks by well-known public speakers for Saturday evening, Jan. 12, when Nicol Smith will speak on "An Adventure in Dutch Guiana," which will be illustrated by moving pictures.

Nicol Smith is a young Californian whose adventures in far away places have brought him into the limelight. His lecture will deal with his most recent expedition into the primitive jungle of the Kabalebo country of Dutch Guiana.

This dense jungle has been visited only once before, and then by the famous Dutch explorer, Dr. Stahel, in 1925. Mr. Smith, however, was the first to take pictures of the unexplored country.

ANOTHER SET-BACK

Although nothing has been said of it, we presume that the city council in its planning for a city hall, has taken into consideration the fact that the Monterey County Water Works' mains run diagonally across Devendorf Plaza, with a right-of-way in the deed. Before any building may be constructed over these mains, the consent of the water company will have to be secured.

As planned, the fire engine house is to cover a strip of the pipes at the northwest corner of the block, which would be contrary to the water company's right-of-way. Officials of the water company have stated that they will undoubtedly protest any such infringement of that right. The alternative to abandonment of the plans would be to detour these mains—there are two; one a 22-inch pipe, the other a 12-inch pipe—around the park.

Water company officials have made an estimate of the cost of such a change in the mains, and place the figure at $2700. This would mean tearing up the park from close to the corner of Ocean and Junipero, to the Sixth and Mission corner, in order to remove the old pipes for relocation. As this demolition of the work of beautification would hardly be permitted, those pipes might be abandoned, at an added cost of between $350 and $400. Which-ever way is taken, it will cost the city somewhat over $3000 to make the park legally fit as a site for a city hall.

Purchasing a city hall site from the water company at a cost of $3000, where not an inch of new land is acquired, does not fit harmoniously with the city council's argument of a free site. If Devendorf Plaza remains a park, the mains can remain as they are indefinitely, but no building can be placed over them without arrangement with the water company.

STOP SIGNS MEAN STOP

Motorists are warned that highway stop signs are going to be carefully watched by patrolling state traffic officers, and that the word STOP means just what it says. Not to be overlooked are slow-down signs near schools such as those at the Bay school over toward Point Lobos, and the Carmel Valley school.

Alarming increase in injuries and deaths on open highways have aroused traffic bureau heads, and officers are instructed to show no leniency with offenders, while police judges are cooperating by exacting penalties to full extent of the law and fixing of traffic tickets is being frowned on as never before.

One stop sign in particular to observe is that at the top of Carmel hill. Officer Leo Ramsey is on duty there much of the time and reports carelessness by a majority of drivers. His instructions from now on are to arrest all violators, so watch your stops well.

SHOTS AT RANDOM

Eastern man visiting at Del Monte bought a dog for $100. It promptly chewed up $400 worth of fur coats. It's not the furs cost, but the pupkeep.

We used to go out and bring home the bacon. Nowadays we expect to have it delivered.

There is nothing wrong with the weather this year except faulty distribution.

AFTER HEAVEN

*These shores are desolate with wind complaining,
 Falling of frozen limbs and lonely spaces;
 Silver of moonlit ice has cut its traces
 Deep in my heart where there is no regaining
 That which belonged to regions passed forever.
 There is no warmth—the sun is but an ember
 Over my head, and I must not remember
 Warmth of strong arms and lips hot as with fever.*

*There is no love here, only cruel eyes shining,
 (Wolves in the night, hungry and lean with waiting)
 Tongues whose grim savagery is unabating,
 (Wind in the trees and rain's unleashed repining).
 Here where you flung me with no last kiss given
 There is but bitter substitute for Heaven!*

RUTH HENENHOFER.

TALISMAN

*I chanced to find in dreamer's lane
 A very strange thing
 Rarer than a feather
 From a wild swan's wing.*

*For I came upon a horseshoe wrought
 Of beaten yellow gold . . .
 A talisman of fortune
 Anyone might wish to hold.*

*I have never ceased to wonder
 How that horseshoe came to be
 In the middle of a pathway.
 For anyone to see;*

*But I think one of the stallions
 Of the chariot of light
 Must have thrown it as he galloped
 In the swiftness of his flight
 Across the azure heavens
 As Apollo drives the sun
 Dispersing night forever
 Through Time's unending run.*

—HARRIET MILLS MCKAY

TRANSFIGURED

*Yesterday
 A red leaf quivered
 (Did Death whisper to it?)*

*Today
 The last red leaf fell
 (Tree, why did you give away all earthly apparel?)
 And fell
 (Did the branch grieve?)*

*Now empty arms are uplifted to the sky
 (Are you asking a robe of God?)*

*Look . . .
 Snow is falling
 More softly than baby steps.
 (I beg forgiveness, tree.
 Who am I to question you?
 You are a nun clad in white Ave Maria.)*

TOO MUCH WORK

One aspect of widespread unemployment seems to have been little discussed. Not all of the jobless are victims of technological unemployment. A considerable number are out of work because establishments which could well make use of extra services have not enough money in the till to pay wages to extra helpers. This is a recognized fact, of course. But the other side of the picture is that most people who have jobs are forced thereby to work two or three times as hard as they should. They are carrying tasks that in better times were spread more thinly.

This fact of overwork for the people who are working helps to create an impression of brisk business that is somewhat deceptive. This is particularly evident, with an indubitable slight improvement in business, but not enough to justify putting on extra help.

All this creates a pace and a strain that only good workers can sustain. The lazy and the inefficient were forced out long ago. Perhaps this is a good thing, but the fact remains that these have to be cared for by other means.

This situation is particularly noticeable in small businesses such as abound in Carmel. Looking back to "the good old days" we can remember a time when it was possible to stop for a chat or a breathing spell without throwing the day's work completely out of kilter. With the help pared down to skeletal proportions, and combination jobs effective in many cases, workers wear a serious and rather harassed expression and have little time for the small amenities of life.

Economists predict more leisure in the future for all of us. No one has yet figured out the whole pattern; just how the shift from too much work for some, and no work for others, to an equitable spread of tasks and pay. Meanwhile, too many people are getting used to work at top speed all the time, and this, on top of the rather general mild neurosis of Americans, is going to produce a condition rather akin to shell-shock. As a nation we work better than we play, and relaxation is becoming more than ever a lost art.

GREETINGS FOR 1935

The Carmel Pine Cone takes advantage of this season to wish for the people of Carmel and Monterey county a new year of greater happiness.

The expression, we know, is used carelessly every year but it very often conveys a genuine sentiment towards people in general. It is in our hearts to see our people prosper, in material as well as cultural growths and this hope is common to most of our fellow-citizens.

And so, because very often The Carmel Pine Cone has spoken for the entire community, we think it appropriate, on our own part, and for thousands of men and women hereabouts, to pass along the hearty greetings of the New Year.

The year 1935 will be about what Carmel people make it, both for themselves individually and for the community. It is worth-while to aspire to better things, to work for improvement along the lines which will be best for Carmel and to hope that future years will find life better and brighter for human beings that follow after us.

There are certain ways of pressing the button of an automobile horn that make it sound like swearing.

PINE NEEDLES

NEW YEAR was celebrated with more social gaiety this season than for a number of years past. Criterion of a different and more carefree outlook was the New Years Eve party at Hotel Del Monte, where 800 guests dined and danced; the largest number the hotel has entertained since 1928. Many prominent San Franciscans and other bay city residents were down, and easterners wintering in California made it a point to be at this traditional center for holiday festivities.

Many watch night parties were held in Carmel, and the whole village seemed to be out Tuesday afternoon making the rounds from house to house in the good old manner. One of the largest of the holiday parties was that at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Patrick Hudgins, who received about 200 guests between 4 o'clock and 8 on New Year's Day. The D. L. Stanfords held open house at their Hatton Fields home. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay K. Gentry received many of their friends at their home at Seventh and Camino Real, and the George Marion home at Carmelo and Ocean was the scene of another large reception.

Captain and Mrs. Henry Gleason entertained about a dozen friends at a watch night party at their home on Casanova. The C. J. Ryland home on Hatton Road was the setting for a "tom-and-jerry" party New Years Eve. Mrs. M. L. Hamlin of Sundial Court apartments entertained, as is her custom, on New Years Day, a few old friends with an eggnogg party. A small group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Neikirk welcomed the infant new year.

Joining the winter colony in Carmel are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark of Philadelphia, who have been making a winter tour of the Pacific coast, but decided not to go further after reaching this village. They have taken a house at Carmelo and Eleventh and plan to remain several months. Mrs. Clark is devoting much time to writing poetry, finding renewed inspiration here.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cerwin at Hotel Del Monte Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartholomew and Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Miller. Mr. Bartholomew is general manager of the Pacific Coast division of the United Press, living in San Francisco.

Mrs. F. W. Ten Winkel visited her brother, C. V. Lane, in San Francisco over Christmas. Mrs. Ten Winkel is making her home in one of the H. W. Turner guest cottages on San Antonio near Second, having leased her own home at Fourth and San Antonio for the winter.

Capt. and Mrs. DeWitt Blamer entertained about 30 guests Friday afternoon with a cocktail party, to introduce their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Egan and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carpenter of Medford, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kay of Atherton visited old friends in Carmel while staying at Highlands Inn over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Howden and their son and daughter of Vancouver, B. C., are visiting in Carmel for a fortnight.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Clark during the past week were friends from their days in Japan, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Wooton and their son, Phillip Jr. The Wooton's home is in Boonton, New Jersey. Leaving the Clark home after New Years, they have gone on to Yosemite for winter sports.

Among New Year's guests at Highlands Inn were Miss Alice Seckels and Miss Blanche Partington of San Francisco; Prof. and Mrs. McBain of Stanford, and Howard Greer of Hollywood.

Holiday house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fish is Nichol Smith, world traveler and adventurer.

Miss Dene Denny returned Wednesday after a holiday visit to her mother, Mrs. G. C. Denny, at Etna, Siskiyou county. This is one of the loveliest of the mountain counties of the state, and the high peaks are now glittering with their winter snow mantle.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Darling for the past week were Dr. and Mrs. C. I. Burt and their daughter, Miss Nancy, who is a student of Mills college.

Miss Rosemary Cunningham of San Francisco was a guest this week of Mrs. F. W. Ten Winkel.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff and their daughter, Miss Gertrude Rendtorff, have returned from a holiday trip which took them as far south as San Diego.

A holiday reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Nixon when their daughter, Miss Mildred Pierson, majoring in art at the Santa Barbara state college, came home for vacation, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore and their sons, Kenneth and James, were here from San Leandro.

Adolph G. Hanke has returned from a brief business trip to San Francisco.

Complimentary to her week-end house guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Murray Campbell of San Francisco, Mrs. Millicent Sears held open house Sunday at her home, Highland Studio. From shortly after noon until dark the guests arrived, and were served refreshments buffet style.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Miller at The Farmhouse were Mr. and Mrs. Eric K. Craig and their daughters, Jean and Janice, of Glendale, and Mrs. Craig's mother, Mrs. Mary A. Cooley of Piedmont. This was Mrs. Cooley's first visit to Carmel since 1910, when she used to go sketching with DeNeale Morgan. Mr. Craig is a petroleum geologist with the Shell Oil company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barton of Berkeley were Christmas guests of Miss Gussie Meyer of Normandy Inn, who is now also entertaining Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dunn of San Francisco.

Mrs. George Hempl and her daughter, Dr. Hilda H. Heller of Palo Alto, were in Carmel during the holidays, guests first of Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff and completing their stay with a visit to Misses Hortense and Jessie Berry.

Word has been received by friends here of the betrothal of Miss Doris Clay, former Carmelite, to Max Olsen of Astoria, Oregon. The marriage will be early in the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ewig attended the Elks ball at San Jose New Year's Eve, returning Wednesday night.

Many Carmel People at Del Monte's Party

THE New Year was gaily ushered in at Hotel Del Monte with the holding of the annual dinner dance and celebration in the main dining room. The festivities were enjoyed by a large number of peninsula merry-makers.

In a group together were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Croft, Miss Eunice Snelling, Miss Jess Gardner, Miss Barrien Cator, Miss Alice McCarthy, Mr. Tom Kreiger, Mr. Bill Griffin, Mr. Henry Hansen and Mr. Lou Knudsen.

Another party included Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Melvin, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Dormody, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. John Latham.

With Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Hull were Miss Marian Minges of Carmel and Mr. Leighton Gee.

In Miss Theodora Gross' party were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vidoroni, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKeever, Jr., Mrs. Tracy Miller, Mr. Bates and Mr. E. B. Gross.

With Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Sowell of Carmel were Mr. and Mrs. R. Castagno, Dr. W. Trimble, Mr. William Judson and several others.

In a large group at Del Monte Lodge were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson of Carmel, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis D. O'Sullivan, Miss June Norvell, Miss Jane Brock, Mr. Robert Wilson, Mr. Thomas Hooper and Mr. Myron Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hirschler and their daughter, Carol, of San Francisco, were at Sundial court over the week-end and holiday.

JACK MORRIS TO DIRECT MONTEREY POLO CLUB SPORTS

Jack Morris, long connected with golf and other sports on the peninsula and now returned to Carmel to live, will be sports director for the old Monterey polo club. His work will include general instruction for children of members, and the 1935 schedule will take full advantage of club house facilities and neighboring field sports.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved. Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting" (Psalm 93: 1, 2).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "God is individual, incorporeal. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else" (p. 331).

Nerves

Do they torture you by day?
Keep you awake at night?

What is it that keeps hospitals open and doctors busy? NERVES.

What is it that makes your face wrinkled and makes you feel old? NERVES.

Nine times out of ten it's NERVES that make you restless, worried, haggard.

Nerves

Do they make you Cranky,
Blue—give you Nervous Indigestion, Nervous Headache?

When nerves are over-taxed, you worry over trifles, find it hard to concentrate, can't sit still.

Nerve strain brings on Headache.

Nervous people often suffer from Indigestion. There may be absolutely nothing wrong with the organs of digestion, but the Nerves are not on the job to make the organs do their work properly.

Nerves

Do they interfere with your work; ruin your pleasure; drive away your friends?

You're cheating yourself and the man who pays you if you work when your NERVES are not normal.

You can't have a good time when you are nervous. You can't make or keep friends when you are keyed up and irritable. You may excuse yourself, but to others you are just a plain crank.

Quiet your nerves with

Yosemite Outing Enjoyed by Boy Scouts of Area

Nineteen Carmel Boy Scouts from Troops Nos. 86 and 39 went on their annual winter camping week-end to Yosemite under the joint leadership of Herman Crossman and Henry Bauernschmidt, and returned without casualty. Snow conditions were excellent for the lads, but a little too generous for ice hockey contests put on by state colleges, thus preventing spirited games. Busy from dawn until dusk, and giving their overseers equally active hours, the boys got enough winter weather and impromptu sports to last another year.

Assisting the leaders were Jack Morris, Laddie Hyde and Walter Goodeno, and among scouts on the trip were Joe McEldowney, Bill Welsh, Earle Dorrance, Bernard McMenamin, Ralph Lee, Bill Chapman, George Wahart, Bud Brownell, Edgar Leslie, Harrison Foster, Robert Rand, Fear Gottfried, Jerry Neikirk, George and Dick Crossman, Franklin Hayford, Ronald Perkins, Jim Rand and Allen Wood.

Fewer Divorces Than Marriages for Monterey County

Monterey county divorce courts were not kept as busy as the marriage license bureau in 1934 and as a result 563 couples went to the altar, while only 216 stepped up to be untied. In 1933 there were 509 marriages and 157 divorces.

Scout troop executives Wednesday, Mr. Crossman gave a glowing account of the Yosemite trip and made several suggestions regarding plans for future jaunts. Al Young, field executive for the area, was present and announced the next court of honor will be held on Feb. 8.

An auditing committee consisting of Commander Martin Peterson, Everett Smith and John Neikirk was appointed.

Several members of the committee are planning on attending the annual executive banquet to be held at Watsonville on Jan. 14.

All those who donated to the scout campaign will soon receive an acknowledgement as well as an outline of the plans for the year.

Cast Is Selected for "Glory Lane"

Myrick Productions will present "Glory Lane," a new play by John Patrick on Jan. 24, 25 and 26. The play will star Miss Sybil Leonard. The story, written expressly for Miss Leonard, depicts the homecoming of a glamorous stage and screen star. Miss Leonard's own career closely parallels that of "Glory Lane," for she was a headliner on the Orpheum circuit before she was 15. Since she has been in Carmel, Miss Leonard has appeared in "The Firebrand," "Salome," "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Paris Bound," "Ladies of the Jury," "The Devil Who Saw God," and "Nine Pine Street."

John Patrick, who penned the script, is known to millions of radio fans, having appeared daily on N.B.C. for five years. Mr. Patrick's last play, in which he appeared, toured the country playing over 900 performances. "Glory Lane" is his fourth play. Mr. Patrick's writings are internationally known through the medium of electrical transcriptions.

Glory Lane's sister is portrayed by Adeline Marion, who was on the stage for 15 years. Mrs. Marion started in musicals with Anna Held. She later appeared for Charles Frohman in "Brass Bottle," and with Raymond Hitchcock in the Broadway production of "Yankee Council."

The production will be directed by Ralph Bell, who has directed for United Artists, Columbia, and Edward Small, who just released "The Count of Monte Cristo." Mr. Bell directed for the stage for a number of years also. Among the plays directed by him are, "The Bad Man," "Mission Play," "Excess Baggage," "Tell Me Again," with Robert Woolsey, and "Sidney Blackmere and Vivian Martin in "Quarantine."

Imported Japanese Prints on Exhibition

On exhibit at the Der Ling Oriental shop on Dolores is a lovely collection of imported Japanese prints which will interest Oriental art enthusiasts. The modern and traditional schools are both represented, and work of some of the great masters is included. The prints are made by means of cherry-wood blocks, on rice paper.

Nothing has been lost of the exquisite, airy perfection of composition which distinguishes this school, and the colors are at once rich and delicate. The printing was in many cases supervised by the artists, and the edition was limited in quantity. The landscapes, birds, flowers and figures which the Japanese love to paint are all represented, with some interesting deviations from the classical form betraying influence of the moderns.

Miss Alice Gordon and Miss Florence Ames of Los Angeles were in Carmel for a brief midwinter holiday.

MISS MARY WILKESON UNDERGOES OPERATION

Stricken suddenly with appendicitis, Miss Mary J. Wilkeson of Pine Inn had a hurried trip to Monterey Hospital at the end of last week, and an operation from which she is making a successful recovery. Miss Wilkeson arrived here a few weeks ago to winter at Pine Inn, as is her usual custom. She will be ready to return to Carmel in a few days.

MISS JANET PRENTISS IS BACK FROM MEXICAN TRIP

MRS. McKILLOP IMPROVES
